

Trinidad History Museum/Colorado Historical Society

Post Office Box 377, Trinidad, Colorado 81082

Telephone 719.846.7217

PRESS RELEASE

September 21, 2007

Contact: Paula Manini

Spooky, Goey and Weird:
An Afternoon with the Addams Family

The house is a museum

When people come to see 'em

They really are a scree-um

The Addams Family...!

Trinidad, CO--Morticia, Gomez, Wednesday, Uncle Fester, Cousin Itt, and the rest of the kind but kooky Addams Family will entertain visitors at the Bloom Mansion at the Trinidad History Museum. There will be two Saturdays of heebie jeebie hilarity, October 13 and 20. "Spooky, Goey, and Weird" is for children only—brave, curious, and fun-loving children.

Kids will join the stars of the 1960s television sitcom on a treasure hunt of sorts. What is Grandmama cooking up? What does Morticia have up those sleeves? What in the world is eating Pugsley? And what's up with Lurch?

With the help of strange clues and weird trinkets from their "Ooky Bags," kids must solve a mystery or two or three. What did Cleopatra eat? Does The Thing need a helping hand? Why is Princess Millicent smiling?

"Spooky, Goey and Weird" is for kids between the ages of 7-12. They must purchase a $5 ticket in advance and sign up for a time slot between 11:00 am-4:00 pm at the Trinidad History Museum Bookstore. Spaces are limited and available on a first-come, first-serve basis.

Parents beware! "Spooky, Goey and Weird" is for kids only. Absolutely no adults allowed! They will have to wait anxiously wait in a tent outside.

The Trinidad History Museum and Southern Colorado Repertory Theatre have teamed up to create a hilarious romp through the stately but spooky Bloom Mansion. Twenty-five community actors under the direction of Harriet Vaugeios are brewing up a cauldron of excitement to kick off the Halloween season.

To register for the event, stop by the bookstore at 312 East Main Street or call 719-846-7217. The museum is a property of the Colorado Historical Society.

###